Fails by Wide Margin
to Equal Own Record;
Matt McGrath, Injured,
Lands Fourth Place

Ray Outclassed in 1,500-Meter Run
English Champion First;
U. S. Athletes Score 17 Points; Increase Lead

By Arthur S. Draper
Special Cable to The Tribune ANTWERP, Aug. 19.—America's track and field athletes again led the nations of the world in the seventh Olympiad, when, as a team, they accounted for 17 points in the two events decided here to-day.

England's stock took a boom as a result of taking the first two places in the 1,500-meter race and first place in the tug-of-war for a total of 16 points, thus displacing Sweden from third place in the standing of the nations.
Although Finland failed to make a point to-day, while England's total is now at 40.

Despite the injury to his leg, Joie Ray, the national one-mile champion of the United States, started in the 1,500-meter race, which was easily the feature of the day, but it would have been just as well had the game American taken a seat in the grandstand and watched this race. The champion, who is capable of running even with any man in the world in this condition, was hopelessly outclassed.

Ray Takes Early Lead
The Englishmen, Hill and Baker, who finished first and second, were the class of the field and won on their merits. Considering the fact that a heavy rain had been forecast and that the American had been taken a seat in the grandstand and watched this race, the champion, who is capable of running even with any man in the world in this condition, was hopelessly outclassed.

Shields and Ray took the lead, with Volkmann, of Czechoslovakia, second. Hill, third; Baker, fourth, and M. L. Shields, of Philadelphia, fifth. In his order they circled the track twice.
About 300 yards from the finish, Hill separated Ray with a beautiful burst of speed.

The tall Englishman carried with him Bills, Shields and Volkmann, closely packed, and Ray, who was about a yard back when the final sprint started, had Ray crowded him and he lost his stride.

Ray's performance stamps him as one of the best middle distance runners in the world, and while Ray's showing was disappointing, one of his legs, because of a strained tendon, was not working.

The only other final event decided to-day was the 16-pound hammer throw, in which Pat Ryan, of the Loughlin Lyons, New York, had no difficulty retaining the world's championship with a heave of 125.55 meters, which equals 125.55 feet. The New York pole thrower was about seventeen feet shy of his own record, but the competition was not very keen.

Matt McGrath Fourth C. Lind, of Sweden, was second, and B. Bennett, of the Chicago Athletic Association, was a close third. Matt Mc-Grath, another of America's athletes, was unable to compete in the final because of an injury to his hand, but the mark he made in the trials was sufficient to land him in fourth place.

Conditions could hardly have been worse than they were to-day for the trial heat of the sprint and distance races. The trainers are complaining that the officials are running the trials too soon after the preliminaries. Those who qualified to-day in the 10,000-meter run, for example, were run in the morning, and it is hardly likely that any records will be broken, as the athletes will not be at their best.

From the United States showed up poorly in this event, only Fred Fallor, of Boston, qualifying for the final. The Indian Patison, E. R.
Johnson, the runner from Pittsburgh, and George V. Gattia, of the New York A. C., all failed to finish their heats. Fallor came through in fourth place in his trial.

The marvelous Frenchman Guillemot, winner of the 100-meter race yesterday, turned out again and won his preliminary heat, finishing the long as fresh as if he had been running a quarter of a mile. Guillemot, the two Frenchmen, Numa and Louis, and the Englishman, Wilson, are the Railroad Fare Increase Denied In This State

Public Service Commission Refuses to Sanction Raise as Authorized by Federal Interstate Board

Reply to the Carriers 40 Per Cent Higher Freight Charges To Be Allowed on Intrastate Shipments, Subject to Suspension

From a Special Correspondent ALBANY, Aug. 19.—Although the Public Utilities Commission of New Jersey has decided that it had no power to suspend the increases either in passenger or freight rates recently granted to the railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Public Service Commission of New York refused to-day to permit the railroads to charge within the state the increased passenger rates authorized by the Federal commission.

The 40 per cent increase in freight rates would be allowed on intrastate shipments, the Public Service Commission announced, although it reserved the right to suspend this increase also at any time within thirty days, if facts presented by shippers seemed to warrant such action.

Its decision was in response to applications made by the railroads of the state to the state, effective August 15, 20, embodying the rate increases graded to the railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

As to passenger rates within the state, the Public Service Commission said that they were fixed by statute and could not be raised by the commission except upon proof that they were insufficient to yield a fair return.
The application made by the railroads was not based upon that ground, but solely upon that of discrimination.

It was the contention of the railroads that the present intrastate rates would be unjustly discriminatory after the new interstate rate became effective and consequently would be in violation of Section 13 of the Interstate Commerce law and of the transportation act of last winter.

This act declares that when rates are found unreasonable as between persons or localities in intrastate commerce or between interstate and intrastate commerce, the Interstate Commerce Commission shall fix the rate, which must be observed by carriers regardless of state laws or authority.

In this case the Public Service Commission said that the railroads had not shown that the present intrastate rates were not based upon that ground, but solely upon that of discrimination.

Antis Charge Senate Aid Bribe Offer In Tennessee

Parley Broken Off,

Reds Announce Readiness

LONDON, Aug. 19.—In the most vicious fighting speech that he has made since his acceptance of the Republican nomination, Senator Harding to-day, before members of the Ohio General Assembly, attacked autocratic, personal government in this country, defended the United States Senate and derided the Democratic claims of a progressive record in Ohio.

Senator Harding commented on opposition cartoons, editorials and speeches that carried the suggestion that a Republican President "proposes to permit the Senate to have some say in determining the policy of government."

"I gladly proclaim all these suggestions to be utterly correct," the Senator said slowly in contented, but not without a touch of sarcasm. "I had rather have the counsel of the Senate than all the political bosses of any party in America."

Voicing his conception of the duty and responsibility of the Presidential office, he asserted:
"The particular task of the Republican party is to appeal to the conscience of the people of this Republic and to assure them that if we are returned to power we mean to restore the exercise of the fullness of rights to the various branches of the government, and not make America the pawn of an individual or the plaything of a party, or the plunder of the profiteers who were developed under the rule of that party which we now inveigh most loudly against them."

The Senator said he wanted a resumption of representative popular government in fact, not merely in name. He spoke in contented, but not
bosses of any party in America."

"There has been a fevered tendency of humanity to believe that we can alter everything that has gone before," he declared. "We had a period of popular resentment of the existence of our courts, and for a time there was a suggestion that we should submit their decisions to popular sanction, else they should not abide."
"There is not very much choice between the two systems, the one of the majority of the people, and the other of the majority of the courts, and the momentary clamor about eliminating the Senate from responsibility in Federal government."

"I do not know whether the idea is imported from the peace council of Paris or whether it is a reflex of the mob mentality which has broken out in London and in the halls of our State Capital, but it is a dangerous and un-American idea. Our business is to hold America stable."
The great mass of Americans, the Senator thinks, merely want the preservation of their liberties, the assurance of tranquility and a fair chance amid conditions which promise that men may achieve and be rewarded as they merit.

"Pats Faith in Ohio
"No one worth while in America," he said, "wants the adoption of any thing approximating the rule of ruin in Russia or the impractical things of the well-meaning dreamer at home." The Senator, from his perch in Europe, presented to the legislators, most of them Republicans, by Ralph D. Cole, who recently was defeated for the Governorship, a picture of the United States which was not only a picture of the United States, but also a picture of the United States which was not only a
